 2 May 1844, entire letter from Lima, Peru addressed to Samuel W. Comstock Esq., agent of Messrs. Russell & Co., Canton China, carried privately via the Pacific to Manila, Philippines, where it received the forwarding agent's handstamp: "Forwd by Peel Hubbell & Co. / Manila" in red oval cachet. The contents reference the commercial export of cochineal (a prized red dye extracted from insects), offering trade quantities and requesting information on price viability in China. The writer notes that this product "is coming to be produced extensively and suggests trial investment interest in Canton. This correspondence illustrates the early commercial network linking South America, Southeast Asia, and China, well before the consolidation of global postal treaties. The absence of postal markings other than the forwarding cachet confirms the private carriage from Lima to Manila, then forwarded on to Canton likely on a merchant or consular vessel. Such pre-philatelic letters from South America to China are extremely rare, especially with Philippine forwarding agent markings, evidencing the crucial role Manila played as a hub in intercontinental commerce prior to formal mail treaties and organized postal routes across the Pacific. An exceptional and early example of trans-Pacific mercantile correspondence linking Peru, the Philippines, and China-markedly scarce and of high significance

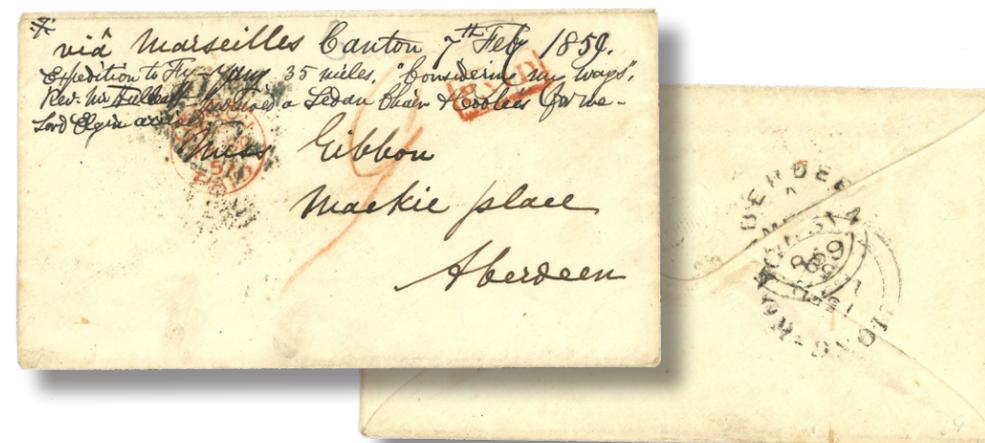

1844年5月2日信函由利馬(秘魯)寄往中國廣州,收件人為Samuel W. Comstock 先生,任職於美資洋行 Russell & Co. 廣州辦事處。信件經太平洋私運至菲律賓馬尼拉,蓋有橢圓形紅色轉遞代理人戳記:“Forwd by Peel Hubbell & Co. /Manila”。信函內容提及商業貨品胭脂蟲染料(cochineal)之出口,並詢問廣州市場對其價格與投資潛力,顯示當時南美與中國間的初期貨品貿易網絡。由於當時尚未成立萬國郵政聯盟(UPU),此信應係全程依賴私人商船與轉遞代理 Forwarding Agents 安排轉運,並未見正式郵政戳記,進一步突顯馬尼拉在早期中南美與華南貿易中的樞紐角色。此類十九世紀前中葉自秘魯寄往中國的商業書信極其罕見,尤以蓋有菲律賓轉遞代理人戳記之實寄品更為珍稀,太平洋早期商業書信與中西貿易郵史的重要實證。一件連結南美、菲律賓與中國的跨洲早期商貿信函,極具研究與收藏價值之郵政前期

Havana, Cuba to Hong Kong, China in use of Forwarding Agent in London 21 August 1863, entire letter sent from Habana (Cuba) to Sr. D. Juan Salvador Álvarez in Hong Kong, China, endorsed “per overland via Marseille”, routed through London with forwarding agent handstamp “ENCAMINADA POR MANCHA Y C” / LONDRES”, and carried overland through France to the Far East via the French packet system. Red London transit marking and manuscript “1/-” credit rating indicate handling under British-French postal arrangements. Manuscript accountancy mark “14” suggests application of international charges. Backstamp in green-black shows origin cancel from Habana (C MAYO). This is a rare pre-UPU correspondence from Spanish colonial Cuba to China, demonstrating complex postal logistics in the pre-Suez Canal era. Few letters from Cuba to Hong Kong are recorded from this early period, especially bearing forwarding marks and routed via the overland Marseille route.

18 February 1858, a letter franked with 6x 1d red Queen Victoria Line-Engraved stamps, each tied by the "529" barred oval cancel, routing endorsed "Via Southampton" at upper left. The cover is addressed to Vaughan T. Daves Esq., Commander of the "Arrow," care of Messer. P.H. Cawle & Co., Hong Kong, China. A forwarding agent often held or redirected naval and commercial correspondence to foreign residents or officers serving in China. This cover was addressed to Commander Vaughan T. Daves, then in command of the HMS Arrow, a prominent vessel notably triggered the Second Opium War, which is known as the Arrow Incident broken out in October 1856. On the reverse side, cancelled by double arc Hong Kong c.d.s. (4 AP 1858), and UK's MILFORD (FE 18, 1853), and LONDON dispatch c.d.s. (FE 19, 58) in red color.

1924 (Oct 11) India to Canton "Charge Not Collected" Cover Sent from Tavdi, India to E. R. Mogra in Shameen, Canton, this cover shows a missing Indian stamp (upper right) and a manuscript "20c" (20 Gold Centimes?) tax marking. In transit, the Hong Kong B.P.O. applied two 4c HK Postage Due stamps tied by a blue boxed "TAX" cancel, subsequently struck with a purple two-line "Charge not collected / in Hong Kong" hand-stamp. The reverse features four ROC blue Postage Due stamps (one 1c and three 2c) tied by Canton (Nov 5) arrival cancels, alongside transit marks from Tavdi, Surat, and Navsari. This item is a premier example of tripartite postal accounting under UPU regulations. It illustrates the conversion of a Gold Centime deficiency into British colonial currency (8c HK) and its final realization in Chinese currency (7c ROC). The rare "Charge not collected in Hong Kong" zhandstamp confirms the transfer of fiscal liability from the British exchange office to the Chinese postal administration for delivery in the Shameen concession.

1950 (Jan 18) England to Hong Kong "Redirected" Airmail Cover.
Sent from Watton, Norfolk to Mrs. J.D. Kelly, a passenger on the S.S. Corfu, originally addressed to Bombay via Messrs. Mackinnon Mackenzie. The cover was redirected to Hong Kong (B.A.P.O. 1) to reach the recipient at H.Q. 28 Inf Bde. It bears a GB 6d definitive tied by a Watton cancel, two "T" tax markings, and a "BOMBAY G.M.S. AIR / DUE AS." handstamp. The reverse is heavily marked with transit and arrival cancels including Bombay (Jan 24), Hong Kong (Mar 28 & 29), and Field Post Office 585 (Mar 30). Tax was collected in Hong Kong using 84c in Postage Due stamps (a 50c, a 10c, and a block of four 6c). This item represents a complex instance of redirected military mail during the post-WWII period. The 84c postage due rate was applied because the letter, originally sent as surface mail or underpaid airmail to India, was redirected from Bombay to Hong Kong via airmail to ensure delivery to the moving recipient. Under UPU and British Commonwealth rules, the 84c represents the double deficiency or the specific airmail surcharge required for the Bombay-to-Hong Kong leg, meticulously recorded by the blue manuscript "84" and realized through the rare usage of multiple Hong Kong postage due values on a single cover.

1954 KLM Constellation Airmail Crash Cover from Hong Kong to France Recovered from the 14 January 1954 Rome Air Crash - Nierinck 540114a
Scarce crash mail originating from Hong Kong, franked with 1950s-era definitive issues totaling $0.60 and clearly post-marked HONG KONG GPO, 12 JA 54. Addressed to Monsieur Maurice Ulzear, Hôtel Scribe, Paris, France. Routed via BOAC/KLM European airmail services and destined for transit through Rome-Amsterdam-Paris. This cover was onboard KLM Flight KL633, a Lockheed L-749A Constellation, which crashed during takeoff at Rome Ciampino Airport on 14 January 1954. The aircraft had originated in Bangkok and carried airmail from across Southeast Asia, including Hong Kong, Singapore, and Indonesia. The crash resulted in multiple fatalities, but a portion of the international mail was salvaged. The front of this envelope bears a two-line Italian crash cachet applied in Rome: "Corrispondenza recuperata in seguito/incidente aereo del 14 GEN 1954" (Correspondence recovered following the air accident of 14 January 1954), Despite significant crash-related soiling and wear (as typical of recovered covers), the cachet and destination address remain fully legible. A prominent example of post-WWII airmail disaster mail, rarely seen from Hong Kong origin to a French address.
Reference: Listed in Henri Nierinck's authoritative work "Répertoire des Accidents d'Avions Transportant du Courrier Aérien", as entry #540114a, describing the 1954 Rome crash involving KLM Flight KL633 and its recovered correspondence.

1954年 KLM 康斯特雷萊申號空難郵件:由香港寄往法國
1954年1月14日羅馬空難回收郵件-Nierinck編號 540114a
此為罕見的空難郵件,起源於香港,貼有1950年代普通郵票共值$0.60,清晰蓋有香港總局郵戳日期為1954年1月12日,寄往法國巴黎史克里布飯店的Maurice Ulzear 先生。經 BOAC/KLM 歐洲航線,預定經羅馬——阿姆斯特丹——巴黎轉運。該郵件搭載 KLM 第KL633號班機,一架洛克希德L-749A 康斯特雷萊申中型飛機,於1954年1月14日在羅馬錢皮諾機場起飛時失事。飛機自曼谷起飛,載有大量來自東南亞(包括香港、新加坡及印尼)的郵件。儘管事故造成多人罹難,部分國際郵件仍被成功回收。
信封正面蓋有一枚由義大利郵政機關加蓋的二行文字戳記,內容如下:
"Corrispondenza recuperata in seguito/Incidente aereo del 14 GEN 1954"
(譯:1954年1月14日飛機事故後回收之郵件)
雖有明顯空難引致的污損與磨損(此類回收郵件常見現象),但戳記及地址仍清晰可辨。此為戰後航空災難郵件的重要例證,來自香港寄往法國者更屬罕見。

According to the article “Macau - 2 avos sobre 10 Reis” published in 1944, someone showed up in the state printer with sheets of Macau Luis I 10r stamps and requested surcharge of 2a on them, claiming it would be used in Timor. After that, this type of 2a/10r stamp appeared on the Yvert catalogue which claimed that this stamp was circulating in Timor. However, this stamp never actually circulated and was a clandestine production. As the governor of Macau Horta e Costa was a philatelist, he ordered to detain mails f.w. this stamp and prohibited to cancel it on cover. However, CTO stamps exist after several years as the order was forgotten.
